

Pakistan has great potential for historical and archaeological sites from the Arabian Sea Shore in the south to Khunjarab Pass in the upper north most of Pakistan. It starts from Moenjodaro (the mound of the dead) from Sind to Harapa in Punjab and Gandhara Civilization in Taxila and Swat in NWFP and so many in carvings discovered in various location on Karakorum Highway to the North. Moenjodaro and Harapa are the world's oldest Civilisations dating as far back as 2000 BC and it is preceded in age only by the Egyptian and Mesopotamian.
